Not everyone agreed that restorative justice should have been used in the case of Lt. Rick Pedrini:

Hi Chief Flaherty,

Hope all is well. We received the below inquiry from the Rainbow Commission about the status of the Restorative Justice process for the AHS graduating seniors that were involved with the school vandalism and hate incident. Is that process ongoing or have their RJ contract obligations been fulfilled? Any guidance on how we should respond would be much appreciated.

Best,
Dave

Dear Dave,

I am checking in as a Commissioner on the Rainbow Commission.

Last spring there was a serious incident at AHS involving graduating seniors. Several students ended up in doing restorative justice. Anna Watson from our Commission participated in that process.

Member of the Rainbow Commission are eager to learn about the results of the process. We are also concerned that members of the Gay Straight Alliance at AHS, the student body itself, and indeed the citizens of Arlington are informed about the results of this restorative justice process.

As a leader of the Human Relations Commission is there any information you can provide us about these matters?

Thank you,

Bill Gardiner

Subject: AHRC Statement re Pedrini

Hi Adam and Christine,

Hope all is well. As we mentioned to Adam at Town Meeting last week, Naomi and I are receiving a lot of pressure from fellow commissioners to issue a longer, clarifying statement regarding our role in the Pedrini-RJ process. The pressure is mounting because Bob Sprague has now sent 2 emails over the past week to every commissioner saying that he will talk to any commissioner willing to tell their story about how we made the decision we made. More commissioners are asking us if they can speak to Bob, but we've been able to successfully have them postpone, pointing to a possible forthcoming longer statement from the Commission. To date, we've only shared the smaller statement that Christine helped us craft (which Naomi and I believe is more than enough!).

Here's the shorter statement we shared with Bob: The Commission was invited to participate in the Restorative Justice process involving Lt Pedrini as it has for other incidents in town. Since the process was announced in February, the Commission received feedback from a wide range of individuals, including those that attended the March meeting. Given the depth and severity of the hurt expressed to the Commission by members of the community, the AHRC collectively thought limiting its role to the collection of community impact statements would best serve the Restorative Justice Process.

We will be re-sharing that with him again today.

Naomi and I think that the timing of a longer statement is now both late and potentially creates another story where one isn't needed. We're not sure what to do though, because other commissioners have made it clear that something has to be said moving forward. Maybe we can get the Commission to hold off long enough until another step in the RJ process occurs? For instance, maybe a longer statement could be released in tandem with Pedrini's public apology. Just brainstorming here.

Regardless, here is the statement the Commission has crafted: <https://docs.google.com/document/d/10os7yrAAQYOGXY-Zi3IWVDN-2U119vcDN8FC4InA9Z8/edit?ts=5cb23828>

It's long and we're not necessarily married to any of it. Thoughts?

Best,
Dave

Subject: Re: [arlington] Public Apology from Richard Pedrini

Shortly after the news broke about Lt. Pedrini's writings, I spoke with Chief Ryan along with a handful of community members about what could be done about this breach of public trust. The Chief explained to us a bit about the process for firing a member of the police force, and the dilemma that he and the Town face. Should they pursue termination, it's likely that it would result in an arbitration process that takes control out of the Town's hands. It's a gamble whether the arbitration panel would uphold the termination. And if they reject the termination, then the officer would be reinstated without any of the restorative process that Lt. Pedrini has since gone through, including his public apology. The Town Manager has offered me the same explanation.

So the options are not as clear cut as fire vs reinstate. It's between a gamble on an arbitration process that's all or nothing vs a process that the Town can exercise greater control over. As I understand it, there is no scenario in which the Town has full control of the process. Imagine, for instance, if arbitration resulted in reinstatement without any restorative process or apology. Under those circumstances Lt. Pedrini might still be writing similar sentiments in the same newsletter and claiming victory over those who had called for his dismissal, all while continuing to serve in the APD.

Is his public apology enough? Of course not. There's a lot of work to be done to rebuild the public trust he destroyed with his hurtful and hateful words. I hope that Lt. Pedrini is willing to do the work that he says he will to rebuild that trust. The restorative process he's undertaken has opened a door, and it's up to him whether he'll step through it. He wrote in his apology:

"I look forward to mending the harm done and moving forward in the right direction. I am committed to meeting with community groups and contributing on matters pertaining to police policy"

If his apology letter is the end of this matter, then justice will not have been done. Justice will be done when this process has restored the public's faith in the APD. And that's going to take concerted effort from more than just Lt. Pedrini. Neither he nor Police Chief Flaherty nor the Town Manager can fix that on their own. It's going to take our community coming together to have difficult conversations. Whether your faith in the APD is complete, nonexistent, or somewhere in between, we all have a role to play in the healing process. There's an opportunity in this tragedy, even if none of us would have chosen this particular path.

Hi Adam and Julie,

I have three leftover thoughts in preparation for the DTG meeting on Monday.

*Would it be okay with you if DTG publicly credits the Town and the Department in hosting the June community meeting? It'll take DTG out of the spotlight as the middle group. We'd be happy to co-sponsor and of course help to organize. I also think that by crediting the Town and the Department for wanting to engage in public discussion will send a very positive light on you. I want us to keep thinking how we can be pioneers in this effort of doing RJ with a whole community. Isn't this an unprecedented case? - I am comfortable with the Town and Department hosting the meeting. I do think it is accurate to call this case unprecedented, at least in Arlington.

*Julie, would you also be prepared to say what folks can do if they do encounter bias in their interactions with an officer? I think that's the fear that people hold as we accept Rick back into the community.

*I'm forwarding you the agenda I sent out. Just to make sure we're all on the same page.

Monday is going to be very powerful. Thank you!

Happy weekend to you both. I'm hoping you have some really great relaxing time away from town.

To:

Good Evening,

Given the interest in attendance at our next and final DTG meeting this academic year, we have moved the meeting location to the Senior Center 27 Maple Street (2nd floor). We will begin promptly at 6:45pm with a round of introductions, purpose of our conversation, process of having the conversation, and *group agreements.

One of the purposes of our meeting is to discuss with Chief Julie Flaherty and Town Manager Adam Chapdelaine our questions about how the restorative justice process went and the public apology letter from Officer Rick Pedrini, and to talk about how we can have a larger conversation at a future date in which we will invite the broader community.

Given the fact that many participating in the room with us are also members of Town Meeting and their obligations begin at 8pm in Town Hall we will only have one hour for this conversation. In order to organize and facilitate that conversation well, everyone attending will be given an index card to write down questions/comments that you want to express. If you're interested in asking a live comment or question, we'll do our best to distribute the time equitably so we can get through as many people as we can. For all the comments/questions that don't get expressed, I'll collect and pass that information to Adam and Julie so hopefully they can address it at the larger community meeting.

We would like to invite the community to a larger conversation and we ask that you hold Wednesday, June 12th ad Wednesday, June 19th as two potential dates, while we finalize plans.

There will be a transition in the room that happens a little before 8pm and our conversation can naturally shift into other meeting items.

Looking forward to our time together!

Michaiah

Agenda:

- Welcome & Sign In
- Special guests- Town Manager Adam Chapdelaine and Acting Police Chief Julie Flaherty discussion on safety and healing in our town post the controversy surrounding columns written by police Lt. Rick Pedrini.

If Town Meeting is still continuing, we will have an abbreviated discussion with these particular town leaders from 6:45pm-7:45pm and will make every effort to continue the conversation at a future gathering (TBD).

- Approve April DTG Minutes

- Celebrate our High School Intern Sophie as she continues to make the world a better place.
- Sticky note activity: How do you want to advance the legacy of DTG, the visibility and presence, and participation of those historically marginalized or excluded in Arlington (July 2019-June 2020).
- Invitation to keep learning -
 - a. A list of our current projects and a contact for how to be involved with community leaders will be shared.

Would also provide the campaign with an ongoing set of things to review past/future from a department based approach (on their website/advocate articles)

Thinking about it a bit further

Much of the work for an eight year look in the rear view mirror has been assembled in the annual financial plan/school reports et al

To that one could readily add a forward looking package (4-plus years) ..
With the override/exclusion point in time providing the 'now'

Perhaps each department could identify 5-10 top line accomplishments over the course of the eight years of the current override for consideration ..
And say five for the future

Those could be broken down between facilities and operational details ..
Adding in the increased use of planning/metrics within departments and town wide (planning) to drive decisions J

A chance for everyone to brag a little .. And to set their sights on the future J

Clearly you're not running for office .. And Arlington is a much different community

But perhaps much to be learned and/or emulated in creating a similar list of accomplishments by you, your team and the town as a whole .. Perhaps as something to be shared as part of the override campaign .. Much accomplished. Much still to be done :-)

Here are 70 South Bend citywide accomplishments of Mayor Pete, after inheriting South Bend's 2011 city ranking of Newsweek Magazine's "Top 10 Worst" US Cities to Live". Please feel free to cut and paste

In Pete's own words he was given the choice by federal prosecutors to either fire the police chief or they would arrest, prosecute, and imprison.

Pete says he did what he felt was best for the residents and safety of South Bend, Boykins, and the Police Dept.

[Five]

Created the "311 Center", a South Bend City resident customer service line.

[Six]

Partnered "311 Center" with "Veteran's Community Connections" to provide resources for South Bend Vets. Achieved 0% veteran homeless rate in South Bend.

[Seven]

Approved the construction of 2 new "State of the Art" South Bend Fire Stations.

[Eight]

[Nine]

[Ten]

Created the "Group Violence Intervention Program".

[Eleven]

[Twelve]

[Seventeen]

Created South Bend H2O Lead Detection Program.

[Eighteen]

Initiated "1000 Homes in 1000 Days" program to tear down or revitalize neighborhood blight.

Contrary to fake news, not ONE person living in their home at the time was evicted.

All homes torn down were deemed not only blight but unsafe and were either abandoned, were second properties usually inherited or investment properties bought dirt cheap by local entrepreneurs intending to flip them for a major profit while doing the least amount of work possible.

[Nineteen]

Helped to add 32 homeless shelter units in a refit of the old Oliver Apartments downtown.

[Forty Six]

Helped to create an additional 28 units for the homeless scattered citywide

[Forty Seven]

Loosened citywide homeless intake standards as other privately funded centers had a zero tolerance drug and alcohol policy with frequent drug and alcohol screening. The reason behind this was Pete's idea of finding shelter first, with substance abuse programs to follow as opposed to being a disqualifier.

[Forty Eight]

Would personally meet with South Bend homeless under a notorious downtown viaduct makeshift camp to see that every single one of them had shelter before authorities removed the camp.

[Forty Nine]

Became the voice of reason and an advocate for the homeless as many city business people of relative stature wanted the South Bend homeless camp to be torn down (as it was several times only to be rebuilt) and blamed Mayor Pete for the cities homeless problem. [Fifty Three]

15,000 new jobs.

[Fifty Four]

Unemployment fell by an overall 7%, from 11.8% unemployment to 4.1% unemployment.

Post Scriptum: First Amendment Primer

Sharon, you wrote:

"I had previously seen the HRC as unquestioning boosters of APD (e.g., in their handling of a complaint by a resident of color about the flying of a Confederate flag)..."

Where HRC = Arlington Human Rights Commission and APC = Arlington Police Department

Apparently Sharon, you don't like Confederate flags flying in town.

Good. We have something in common. I don't either.

But there's NOTHING that APD, or the HRC, or any government agency can do about any private person flying any flag -- even a Nazi flag, if you come right down to it.

I don't believe there's anything even a private party (i.e., person, human) can do about it, for that matter. This is a settled First Amendment issue. There's no ambiguity.

It doesn't matter if they're a resident of color. Considerations like that are irrelevant. We may not like it, it might be hurtful, but there's some things we have no control over.

We just have to suck it up.

If you have expectations that the Town, or any agency of the Town, can intervene with someone flying a Confederate flag (and apparently, and inexplicably, you do) then you simply don't understand basic aspects of the legal, governmental and justice system.

And your criticizing the town, or any agency of the town, on that basis is completely and utterly invalid.

Yep.

And that's about all we have to talk about.

Regards,

Mark Weisz

P.S. And sadly, Sharon, your whole posturing on these issues only drowns out and hurts those folks with legitimate issues.

Hi Adam,

I am angry about the Pedrini case but I feel that your willingness last night to listen to perspectives very different to your own was the beginning of a journey. You are a young white man and can have no idea how it feels to be on the receiving end of white male brutality. You showed up and you listened and that matters. I am sure this hasn't been easy for you and won't be as you sit through more of people's hurt feelings, but I want to thank you for being willing to do it. Please let me know if there is any way I can support you going forward.

See you there!

Hi Amigos and Amigas,

This discussion is especially topical as Arlington Police Department has reinstated Rick Pedrini, the racist police officer who published 3 articles in which he advocated violence against immigrants, members of the LGBTQ community, drug addicts and social justice advocates.

Among many other disturbing comments, he wrote "Let's meet violence with violence and get the job done". He will be back on the streets of Arlington and carrying a gun by the end of June.

I urge you to take a stand against this decision by our Town Manager and Chief of Police and let them know that Arlington has zero tolerance for racist police officers. Please attend this discussion, read up about this situation with officer Pedrini if you are not familiar with it and pass this information on to sympathetic folks.

We are better than this. Our community deserves a police department that ALL OF US can trust and feel safe with.

Hi Julie & Adam,

Julie, good to see at Magnolia park on Sunday. Your officers really respect you. It was so noisy at the park and difficult to hear all the speakers but when you spoke, they all moved in, turned their radios down, and got quiet to hear you. If you want to hear any other feedback I can share it later.

Adam, I hope BOS went well last night.

And last night at the Diversity Task Group I wanted to take the pulse on community questions re: Lt. Pedrini. I framed it with ground rules with how we were going to have the conversation (respectful, honest, with the aim of being helpful).and promoted that the town leaders, APD, and community are all dealing with collateral consequences of standing by the principles and values of RJ. Here's what came up

- The leadership in town need to hear ad acknowledge that there was tremendous harm to their faith in gvt and apd...
- is Lt. pedrini the only one with this mentality?
- RJ not meant for personell policy
- desire for transparency
- other friends from neighboring communities have lost faith in their PD because of Pedrini's columns (and family members in the western part of MA were talking about the case with family members in Arlington)-- how can Pedrini repair harm done that was so wide spread?
- lots of questions about how civil service union (how and why former chief Ryan was not hired with it and then got back in it)
- What does the town harassment policies say?
- In what way is APD monitoring Pedrini ("he shouldn't get 3 strikes")- What happens if he slips up?
- What retribution is he making to the harmed groups-- immigrant community and recovery groups?
- How is RJ going to be used now for marginalized groups in Arlington?

We only had 20 minutes for discussion and then ended our time with a quote from James Baldwin.

I'd welcome either or both of you to come to our meeting in May 13th, before we break for the summer, if you wanted to. The group size is typically 15-25 people and rotates between about 50 or so active members.

p.s. apologies for typos.

p.s.s. I know you also have pressing issues you're dealing with and please let me know if DTG can be of any help.

Good evening Adam and Julie,

I'm watching Town Meeting tonight again from the comforts of my home. :)
Keep up the good work.

I'm emailing you now to determine if you'd like to make a big appearance at our Diversity group on Monday May 13th from 6:45pm-9pm in the Jefferson Cutter House. If you are able to go, I'd love to talk briefly with you about the process and plan and hoped for outcomes or goals for our time.

Feel free to type up a few thoughts over e-mail, discuss on the phone, or meet in person (30 minutes) 8am-2pm this week.

Cheers.

Hi Julie & Adam,

Julie, good to see at Magnolia park on Sunday. Your officers really respect you. It was so noisy at the park and difficult to hear all the speakers but when you spoke, they all moved in, turned their radios down, and got quiet to hear you. If you want to hear any other feedback I can share it later.

Adam, I hope BOS went well last night.

And last night at the Diversity Task Group I wanted to take the pulse on community questions re: Lt. Pedrini. I framed it with ground rules with how we were going to have the conversation (respectful, honest, with the aim of being helpful).and promoted that the town leaders, APD, and community are all dealing with collateral consequences of standing by the principles and values of RJ. Here's what came up

- The leadership in town need to hear ad acknowledge that there was tremendous harm to their faith in gvt and apd...
- is Lt. pedrini the only one with this mentality?
- RJ not meant for personell policy
- desire for transparency
- other friends from neighboring communities have lost faith in their PD because of Pedrini's columns (and family members in the western part of MA were talking about the case with family members in Arlington)-- how can Pedrini repair harm done that was so wide spread?
- lots of questions about how civil service union (how and why former chief Ryan was not hired with it and then got back in it)
- What does the town harassment policies say?
- In what way is APD monitoring Pedrini ("he shouldn't get 3 strikes")- What happens if he slips up?
- What retribution is he making to the harmed groups-- immigrant community and recovery groups?
- How is RJ going to be used now for marginalized groups in Arlington?

We only had 20 minutes for discussion and then ended our time with a quote from James Baldwin.

I'd welcome either or both of you to come to our meeting in May 13th, before we break for the summer, if you wanted to. The group size is typically 15-25 people and rotates between about 50 or so active members.

p.s. apologies for typos.

p.s.s. I know you also have pressing issues you're dealing with and please let me know if DTG can be of any help.

Pedrini has been back to work a little over a month, and already he's rubbing shoulders with the town racist, Stephen Harrington.

As for this being coincidental, I'm going to say the APD has a big wall of distrust to scale here-- as in, this does not look good for Pedrini or the APD.

As for the threat below, I am formally requesting an internal investigation into Pedrini's actions in relation to the below.

I am writing as a concerned citizen in regards to the threats from Stephen Harrington made against Laura Keisel who has been working on an article regarding the restorative justice process for Lt Pedrini. I believe she has emailed everyone on this email expressing her concerns and I would like to echo those concerns. As a [REDACTED], female journalist and activist in our town, I have witnessed her receive a lot of unwanted negative attention. I very much respect the work she does to make Arlington an inclusive town and I hope there is a way town officials are able to support her efforts (regardless of how uncomfortable her viewpoints may be for some of us), such that she feels welcome rather than targeted. Please advise if there is anyway I can be supportive as a citizen. I look forward to your reply.

Many of you are engaged in a coordinated effort to destroy a resident of Arlington; APD Pedrini.

I've never met any of you, nor had I ever met Pedrini, until today. My interaction was completely unexpected, innocent and we merely exchanged random banter completely devoid of any recent events that you all are obsessed with.

I have one question for each of you.

Have you ever talked to Pedrini? You, personally, about anything at all?

Have you?

I'll give you 24 hours to respond before publicly chastising, castigating and whatever he fuck you think you've been doing the past few months.

Let's see what you are made of "

Since the sender of the letter, Stephen Harrington states hat he met with Pedrini today I would like you to investigate any connection that he may have to sending out this letter, since the threatening tone of it is similar to the tone Pedrini used in his articles.
This is he very thing that is making Arlington residents fearful right now.

Thank you

Forrest,

Thank you for writing to bring this to our attention. Chief Flaherty and I have discussed this matter and we both agree that it needs to be addressed. The Chief will respond with more details on her planned next steps by the close of business tomorrow.

Hello.

I am writing everyone at the Town of Arlington that I can think of to make you aware of an unexpected and unsettling email I received last night. I have included the full email below. My understanding is that others in our community have also received this email. Back in the old “normal” days, I would have blown something like this off. However, in light of our current political and social climate, I don’t want to leave you unaware of what’s going on.

I do not know Stephen Harrington. I gather he is upset with my public statements on the community email list, the Arlington List, concerning the Arlington Police Department’s Lt. Pedrini, his hateful public statements, and the Town’s continuing his employment. It seems to me that Mr. Harrington has been emboldened by Lt. Pedrini’s writings and the Town’s poor management of events.

I expect you and the Town of Arlington to take Mr. Harrington’s threatening email and all that it implies very seriously. In light of the recent suspicious fires at a rabbi’s home in Arlington and the on-going racist and hateful speech by others in our community, I presume that you and the Town of Arlington will take a very public and active stand against such abhorrence.

Sincerely,

Forrest Snyder

Hello Adam,

Thank you for your attention to this matter. I appreciate it. I am also attaching screen shots of Facebook posts from Stephen Harrington, one dated from May 14th that explicitly names me several times and spotlights me as related to this issue (to show that this morning's email was an escalation of his targeting of me despite me having no contact, interaction or engagement with him; it also leads me to doubt that if he did have conversation with Pedrini as he claims, that my name was somehow not brought up or this topic in general since he seems preoccupied with it). To update you, I have filed a formal complaint with the MA ACLU who have marked my case urgent and the Committee to Protect Journalists (CPJ) as both prominently handle cases of protecting journalists who cover police departments and receive threats of any kind as a result. Thank you again and let me know if you have any questions or need anything else.

Hello Adam and Joe,

I am forwarding you a message I received this morning. Are you familiar with this person, Stephen Harrington? He is a blatant racist--I've seen him call people of color disgusting slurs on Arlington Facebook pages and even threaten to blow up their homes and hurt them (which is illegal and not covered by the First Amendment, but for some reason, people just treat his threats as harmless).

Someone--actually Paul Schlichtman--told me last week that Harrington has been "plotting" against me on social media and I've been the target of threats (I can't see it because I long ago blocked him on Facebook). I find it strange that Harrington asserts he had a conversation with Pedrini yesterday and now he is suddenly sending a threatening message out to two dozen people in town. Is Pedrini aware of this? This doesn't offer me a lot of confidence in what his reinstatement implies for those of us who are more vulnerable, in a town now becoming infamous hate crimes in the Commonwealth.

I don't know if you have been aware, but some of us who have been vocal about not agreeing with Pedrini's reinstatement have been receiving harassing emails, libeled and subtly threatened by other Town members. I would like to know where Town officials and the APD are in denouncing this publicly?

I hope this is a matter that Town official and the APD will be taking very seriously. As I mentioned, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] and an earmark in case someone attempts to swat me. I have forwarded this email to Julie Flaherty, voicing the same concerns to her I have voiced to you, and requested that Stephen Harrington's email added to that file.

My feature article on Pedrini will be coming out in a couple of weeks, and I have a feeling my vulnerability or receipt of threats and harassment will be going up in Town. My editor and his lawyers take it very seriously and will likely be in contact with you Adam.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Laura Kiesel

Subject: threatening email received by Laura Keisel

Good afternoon.

I am writing as a concerned citizen in regards to the threats from Stephen Harrington made against Laura Keisel who has been working on an article regarding the restorative justice process for Lt Pedrini. I believe she has emailed everyone on this email expressing her concerns and I would like to echo those concerns. As a [REDACTED] female journalist and activist in our town, I have witnessed her receive a lot of unwanted negative attention. I very much respect the work she does to make Arlington an inclusive town and I hope there is a way town officials are able to support her efforts (regardless of how uncomfortable her viewpoints may be for some of us), such that she feels welcome rather than targeted. Please advise if there is anyway I can be supportive as a citizen. I look forward to your reply.

Respectfully,
Lynette Martyn

Subject: Threatening email from Stephen Harrington

Dear, Adam, Julie, Joe, Naomi and Dave:

I'm writing from Uruguay, since I'm down here leading the life I lead on this other continent (as coincidence—or lifelong commitments-- would have it, largely in human rights circles). I had hoped to disengage some from the concerns that have held my attention over the past several months in Arlington (as many of you know), but I can't ignore the attached message, which was forwarded to me this morning by Laura Kiesel and leaves me with a panicky feeling of dejà vu—not only because it echoes the violent style and tone of Lt. Pedrini's articles in the Sentinel but also, because here in Montevideo, where recent events have once again brought to the fore the collective trauma Uruguayans lived through during the years of the military dictatorship, at this time of year we have again just memorialized Uruguay's disappeared with a silent march through the middle of town—meaning that painful memories are very much in the forefront of both our minds and our conversations.

Though in comparison to other crank messages I've seen from Mr. Harrington this one strikes me as an escalation, I have no idea whether or not it should be considered more serious than others he has posted over the years. And in all fairness, I have no idea whether or not Lt. Pedrini had anything to do with his sending it out; that's simply a question I can't help but ask, given the way Mr. Harrington references Mr. Pedrini in his message. Of what I am certain, is that the violence implicit in the language, style and tone of the email I'm forwarding should not be dismissed lightly. That violence is all too familiar to me from my years of opposing the de facto government in this, my second home—where all too often, threats like those it contains were followed by physical attacks. As a reality check, I've run it past a couple of Uruguayan friends who share my recollections of such threats and who, like me, found its language and content eerily reminiscent. I suspect that to you, who may not have lived through such an experience (even in these "Trumpian" times), the comparison will come across as an overstatement, but it's better to be safe than sorry. Regardless of whether Mr. Harrington's email is politically motivated or a reflection of personal pathology, because violent words (in and of themselves, damaging) so often translate into violent deeds, either way it should be taken seriously—all the more so, given that it references an incident about which the Town remains painfully divided and in need of closure.

Just as I've been asking that you not dismiss Lt. Pedrini's writings as "just a bunch of words," so here I ask that all of you take Mr. Harrington's message seriously, and that you respond with the utmost urgency—by both investigating what he intended in sending it, and doing everything you can to keep Laura (and anyone else who has received it) safe. It doesn't matter whether any of you happen to agree or not with the positions she, or anyone else, has taken regarding Pedrini's continued presence on the APD. As our legally elected and appointed officials, that's part of what we, your constituents, expect of you.

Respectfully and with sadness,

Louise Popkin

Jim,

I would very much appreciate it if you could assist with a response email for Laura Kiesal and Forest. Here's what I would like to relay to her;

Laura,

I have received your email regarding Mr. Harrington's message to you. We are taking this very seriously and I have personally looked into this matter. After you contacted me, I met with Lt Pedrini to inquire about his interaction with Mr. Harrington. Lt Pedrini indicated that he was on a scheduled lunch break, eating his lunch outside by his vehicle in a private parking lot. Mr. Harrington, who he had never met prior to Tuesday, approached him and engaged him in a brief conversation regarding Mr. Harrington's son, and nothing more. I believe this was a chance encounter that Mr. Harrington is using to his advantage. I have consulted with The Middlesex District Attorneys Office and while his message to you is concerning, it does not rise to the level of Threats to Commit Crime under Massachusetts General Law Chapter 275 Section 2. I would be happy to meet with you to discuss this further if that is something you would be interested in doing. Additionally, you may be eligible for a Harassment Prevention order (Mass 258E Order). You can apply for this order at The Third District Court, 4040 Mystic Valley Parkway, Medford, MA 02155 during business hours. Please contact me if you have any questions.

Thank you

To the concerned parties who emailed Adam and I, I would send a similar email;

Thank you for contacting me on behalf of Laura Kiesal. I have been in touch with her to explain her options. While the email she received is concerning, it does not rise to the level of a violation of Massachusetts General Law Chapter 275 Section 2, Threats to Commit a crime. I have offered her the opportunity to meet with me to discuss this further, and extend the same offer to you.

Thank you.

As a reality check, I've run it past a couple of Uruguayan friends who share my recollections of such threats and who, like me, found its language and content eerily reminiscent. I suspect that to you, who may not have lived through such an experience (even in these "Trumpian" times), the comparison will come across as an overstatement, but it's better to be safe than sorry. Regardless of whether Mr. Harrington's email is politically motivated or a reflection of personal pathology, because violent words (in and of themselves, damaging) so often translate into violent deeds, either way it should be taken seriously—all the more so, given that it references an incident about which the Town remains painfully divided and in need of closure.

Just as I've been asking that you not dismiss Lt. Pedrini's writings as "just a bunch of words," so here I ask that all of you take Mr. Harrington's message seriously, and that you respond with the utmost urgency—by both investigating what he intended in sending it, and doing everything you can to keep Laura (and anyone else who has received it) safe. It doesn't matter whether any of you happen to agree or not with the positions she, or anyone else, has taken regarding Pedrini's continued presence on the APD. As our legally elected and appointed officials, that's part of what we, your constituents, expect of you.

Respectfully and with sadness,
Louise Popkin

Good afternoon Laura,

I received your email regarding Mr. Harrington's message. Thank you for bringing this matter to our attention. Please know we take this matter very seriously.

After you contacted me, I met with Lt. Pedrini personally to further understand the circumstances preceding Mr. Harrington's message. I learned that Lt. Pedrini was eating his lunch outside his vehicle in a private parking lot on a scheduled break when he was approached unannounced by Mr. Harrington. Lt. Pedrini, who does not know Mr. Harrington personally and had never met him prior to Tuesday, indicated they engaged in a brief (less than 3 minutes) conversation regarding Mr. Harrington's child, and nothing more.

Given that this was a fleeting and superficial interaction, I believe Mr. Harrington is simply using this chance encounter to promote his own beliefs and advance his own personal agenda. In fact, in order to present his own narrative, Mr. Harrington incorrectly assumes Lt. Pedrini is an Arlington resident.

While his message is both cryptic and concerning, it does not, on its face, rise to the level of Threats to Commit Crimes per MGL c.275 §2. I consulted with the Middlesex District Attorney's Office to confirm the same. With that said, we will certainly incorporate this message into the file as you request. Beyond that, you may be eligible for a Harassment Prevention Order (Mass 258E Order). This can be sought now, or in the future, at the Third District Court located at 4040 Mystic Valley Parkway, Medford, MA 02155 during business hours. It is worth noting that as part of the 285E process, you can request a defendant have no digital contact with you.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any additional questions. I am also willing to discuss this matter in person if you think that would be helpful.

Sincerely,

Dear

Thank you for taking the time to contact me regarding this matter. The Arlington Police Department indeed takes this report, and all reports of this nature, seriously. In this instance, we immediately began looking into the message, as well as the reported circumstances which preceded it.

While the message was concerning, it was determined in consultation with the Middlesex District Attorney's Office that it did not reach the threshold of Threats to Commit Crimes per MGL c.275 §2; however, I have personally been in touch with Laura regarding the available courses of action.

Please rest assured the APD takes the safety of all our residents seriously, and we stand ready to assist and intervene as necessary without prejudice.

Sincerely,

Hello Julie,

I am forwarding you a message I received this morning. Are you familiar with this person, Stephen Harrington? He is a blatant racist--I've seen him call people of color disgusting slurs on Arlington Facebook pages and even threaten to blow up their homes and hurt them (which is illegal and not covered by the First Amendment, but for some reason, people just treat his threats as harmless). Someone told me last week that he's been "plotting" against me on social media and I've been the target of threats (I can't see it because I long ago blocked him on Facebook). I find it strange that he asserts he had a conversation with Pedrini yesterday and now he is suddenly sending a threatening message out to two dozen people in town. Is Pedrini aware of this? This doesn't offer me a lot of confidence in what his reinstatement implies for those of us who are more vulnerable.

I don't know if you have been aware, but some of us who have been vocal about not agreeing with Pedrini's reinstatement have been receiving harassing emails, libeled and subtly threatened by Town members. I would like to know where is the Town officials and the APD in denouncing this?

I hope this is a matter that you and the APD will be taking very seriously. As I mentioned, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] and an earmark in case someone attempts to swat me. I would like Stephen Harrington's email added to that file. My piece on Pedrini will be coming out in a couple of weeks, and I have a feeling my vulnerability or receipt of threats and harassment will be going up.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Laura Kiesel

I've BCC'd about two dozen people here.

Many of you are engaged in a coordinated effort to destroy a resident of Arlington; APD Pedrini.

I've never met any of you, nor had I ever met Pedrini, until today. My interaction was completely unexpected, innocent and we merely exchanged random banter completely devoid of any recent events that you all are obsessed with.

I have one question for each of you.

Have you ever talked to Pedrini? You, personally, about anything at all?

Have you?

I'll give you 24 hours to respond before publicly chastising, castigating and whatever the fuck you think you've been doing the past few months.

Let's see what you are made of.

Dear Acting Chief Flaherty,

Thank you for your thorough reply. I didn't expect (or want) anything to be done at this point. I just wanted to make you and others aware of what's going on.

I am sorry that you and others had to spend time on this and, believe it or not, sorry that Lt. Pedrini had to be involved in something completely out of his control.

Thank you, again.

Hello.

I am writing everyone at the Town of Arlington that I can think of to make you aware of an unexpected and unsettling email I received last night. I have included the full email below. My understanding is that others in our community have also received this email. Back in the old "normal" days, I would have blown something like this off. However, in light of our current political and social climate, I don't want to leave you unaware of what's going on.

I do not know Stephen Harrington. I gather he is upset with my public statements on the community email list, the Arlington List, concerning the Arlington Police Department's Lt. Pedrini, his hateful public statements, and the Town's continuing his employment. It seems to me that Mr. Harrington has been emboldened by Lt. Pedrini's writings and the Town's poor management of events.

I expect you and the Town of Arlington to take Mr. Harrington's threatening email and all that it implies very seriously. In light of the recent suspicious fires at a rabbi's home in Arlington and the on-going racist and hateful speech by others in our community, I presume that you and the Town of Arlington will take a very public and active stand against such abhorrence.

Sincerely,

Forrest Snyder

The Ranking Officer's Association collective bargaining agreement (CBA) has language, which is very common, about what the standard is for imposing discipline against an officer commonly referred to as just cause. The CBA also has grievance and arbitration language that specifies what happens if there is a disagreement about the enforcement/application of the contract (i.e. arbitration).

Hello Julie,

Thank you for the response. I may look into the Harassment Prevention Order. Forrest Snyder forwarded me the email he received from you as well, which looks to be the same as the one I received here. There is a difference though between Erik and Forrest receiving the message and myself. Unlike them, Stephen Harrington has been targeting me specifically for several weeks on Facebook, such as with the March 14th screen shots I provided. Paul Schlichtman told me on March 11th Harrington had been targeting me online about this case, which predates these screen shots, meaning this has been ongoing for about the past month. It's difficult for me to reason that Harrington--a man who like Joe Curro just wrote today is a loose canon with no filter who never can exercise restraint when offered an opportunity to complain or target people--and who seems to have been obsessed with me specifically in the context of Pedrini's case for weeks now--would just happen Pedrini randomly and NOT bring my name up to him when afforded that opportunity. It's just not in his character. I have no doubt my name was likely brought up. As Joe Curro also wrote today, Stephen Harrington is well known in the town and has a very specific kind of reputation, so it's hard for me to also believe Pedrini doesn't know who Stephen Harrington is, at least by that reputation, or has never run into him in his 25 years at the APD. This is why I still intend to file a complaint against Pedrini to investigate further with the APD.

The MA ACLU did back up my editor's suggestion that as a journalist being threatened, this can qualify as a civil rights offense and to file a formal grievance there as well, which I am also looking into doing. In the meantime, I did file several more public records and FOIA requests today with your department. I am wondering if and when the first request will be processed. Legally, public records requests require a response in 10 days of filing, but it's been over 8 weeks (which is in my article). Please let me know.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Laura Kiesel

Dear Adam and Julie,

Actually, I did check with Muck Rock, and it looks like my FOIA and public records request was granted last month, so apologies for that.

The file on Pedrini is over 200 pages long, though there are many redactions. It looks like there have definitely been complaints filed on him, including even a lawsuit against the town for alleged negligence in allowing him to continue policing as a result of one of those complaints. Last week, we were told during the Diversity Taskforce meeting that Pedrini had never had any complaints or allegations of misconduct filed against him. But that certainly does not seem to be the case. Do either of you care to comment?

Additionally, I found earlier issues of The Sentinel. While Pedrini's rhetoric in "The Man on the Streets" column stops short of advocating violence as he did in the 2018 issue, the content does again express prejudicial comments against undocumented immigrants (and the "Sanctuary-town types" who defend them), those with addiction (and takes a hard line of prosecution and incarceration) and again criticizes Black Lives Matter. This indicates that Pedrini's articles in the 2018 were not the complete anomaly, but an escalation of a trend. Can you comment on this?

Finally, Stephen Harrington again tagged me this morning on a Facebook post. I am attaching the screen shot. Something I requested in my email two days ago when he first sent that email, was--will the town do more to denounce Pedrini's words in the 2018 issue of the Sentinel as "racist" and as "hate speech"? As we discussed at last week's meeting, Pedrini's apology was devoid of any reference to the racist/racially biased language he used and the fact that his apology was not at all directed to those demographics and groups he actually targeted in his missives. Will there be another apology? Is the town willing to formally acknowledge or denounce his words as racist?

As you may know, one of the people asked to sit in on the circle--[REDACTED]-- has publicly stated that Pedrini's rhetoric was not particularly racist and that calling it racist is counter-productive. Do either of you have a response to that?

I ask that last question both as a journalist and a concerned citizen who stands to become more of a target when the town refuses to acknowledge the nature of Pedrini's rhetoric, which I worry leads to its normalization and thereby emboldens others.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Laura Kiesel

Hello Julie,

Thank you for the response. I may look into the Harassment Prevention Order. Forrest Snyder forwarded me the email he received from you as well, which looks to be the same as the one I received here. There is a difference though between Erik and Forrest receiving the message and myself. Unlike them, Stephen Harrington has been targeting me specifically for several weeks on Facebook, such as with the March 14th screen shots I provided. Paul Schlichtman told me on March 11th Harrington had been targeting me online about this case, which predates these screen shots, meaning this has been ongoing for about the past month. It's difficult for me to reason that Harrington--a man who like Joe Curro just wrote today is a loose canon with no filter who never can exercise restraint when offered an opportunity to complain or target people--and who seems to have been obsessed with me specifically in the context of Pedrini's case for weeks now--would just happen Pedrini randomly and NOT bring my name up to him when afforded that opportunity. It's just not in his character. I have no doubt my name was likely brought up. As Joe Curro also wrote today, Stephen Harrington is well known in the town and has a very specific kind of reputation, so it's hard for me to also believe Pedrini doesn't know who Stephen Harrington is, at least by that reputation, or has never run into him in his 25 years at the APD. This is why I still intend to file a complaint against Pedrini to investigate further with the APD.

The MA ACLU did back up my editor's suggestion that as a journalist being threatened, this can qualify as a civil rights offense and to file a formal grievance there as well, which I am also looking into doing. In the meantime, I did file several more public records and FOIA requests today with your department. I am wondering if and when the first request will be processed. Legally, public records requests require a response in 10 days of filing, but it's been over 8 weeks (which is in my article). Please let me know.

Thank you for your consideration.

Good afternoon Laura,

I received your email regarding Mr. Harrington's message. Thank you for bringing this matter to our attention. Please know we take this matter very seriously.

After you contacted me, I met with Lt. Pedrini personally to further understand the circumstances preceding Mr. Harrington's message. I learned that Lt. Pedrini was eating his lunch outside his vehicle in a private parking lot on a scheduled break when he was approached unannounced by Mr. Harrington. Lt. Pedrini, who does not know Mr. Harrington personally and had never met him prior to Tuesday, indicated they engaged in a brief (less than 3 minutes) conversation regarding Mr. Harrington's child, and nothing more.

Given that this was a fleeting and superficial interaction, I believe Mr. Harrington is simply using this chance encounter to promote his own beliefs and advance his own personal agenda. In fact, in order to present his own narrative, Mr. Harrington incorrectly assumes Lt. Pedrini is an Arlington resident.

While his message is both cryptic and concerning, it does not, on its face, rise to the level of Threats to Commit Crimes per MGL c.275 §2. I consulted with the Middlesex District Attorney's Office to confirm the same. With that said, we will certainly incorporate this message into the file as you request. Beyond that, you may be eligible for a Harassment Prevention Order (Mass 258E Order). This can be sought now, or in the future, at the Third District Court located at 4040 Mystic Valley Parkway, Medford, MA 02155 during business hours. It is worth noting that as part of the 285E process, you can request a defendant have no digital contact with you.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any additional questions. I am also willing to discuss this matter in person if you think that would be helpful.

Hello Julie,

I am forwarding you a message I received this morning. Are you familiar with this person, Stephen Harrington? He is a blatant racist--I've seen him call people of color disgusting slurs on Arlington Facebook pages and even threaten to blow up their homes and hurt them (which is illegal and not covered by the First Amendment, but for some reason, people just treat his threats as harmless). Someone told me last week that he's been "plotting" against me on social media and I've been the target of threats (I can't see it because I long ago blocked him on Facebook). I find it strange that he asserts he had a conversation with Pedrini yesterday and now he is suddenly sending a threatening message out to two dozen people in town. Is Pedrini aware of this? This doesn't offer me a lot of confidence in what his reinstatement implies for those of us who are more vulnerable.

I don't know if you have been aware, but some of us who have been vocal about not agreeing with Pedrini's reinstatement have been receiving harassing emails, libeled and subtly threatened by Town members. I would like to know where is the Town officials and the APD in denouncing this?

I hope this is a matter that you and the APD will be taking very seriously. As I mentioned, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] and an earmark in case someone attempts to swat me. I would like Stephen Harrington's email added to that file. My piece on Pedrini will be coming out in a couple of weeks, and I have a feeling my vulnerability or receipt of threats and harassment will be going up.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Laura Kiesel

I've BCC'd about two dozen people here.

Many of you are engaged in a coordinated effort to destroy a resident of Arlington; APD Pedrini.

I've never met any of you, nor had I ever met

Pedrini, until today. My interaction was completely unexpected, innocent and we merely exchanged random banter completely devoid of any recent events that you all are obsessed with.

I have one question for each of you.

Have you ever talked to Pedrini? You, personally, about anything at all?

Have you?

I'll give you 24 hours to respond before publicly chastising, castigating and whatever the fuck you think you've been doing the past few months.

Let's see what you are made of.

The Ranking Officer's Association collective bargaining agreement (CBA) has language, which is very common, about what the standard is for imposing discipline against an officer commonly referred to as just cause. The CBA also has grievance and arbitration language that specifies what happens if there is a disagreement about the enforcement/application of the contract (i.e. arbitration).

Thank you for the reply Chief Flaherty. The message was concerning, aside from the emotional toll it took on the recipients it also places a burden on town resources in the form of consultations, responses, etc.

I don't mean to sound like a broken record but there is still a great deal of concern in the community regarding Lt Pedrini's reinstatement and insufficient restorative justice process. Does the town plan to publicly denounce Pedrini's words as racist and talk to him about his apology? I know you and Adam denounced the writings as racist in the last DTG meeting but it's not enough to acknowledge the racism in a small group with a dozen or so residents--it needs to be public. Additionally, in order for the restorative justice process to be at all legitimate, Lt Pedrini also needs to acknowledge the words as hateful and racist rather than merely "careless". If the town cannot name the writings as racist to the public and make a stronger statement, then we are normalizing his rhetoric and indirectly enabling and emboldening residents like Harrington. Should hate crimes continue to escalate in Arlington, I fear we as a town will be complicit.

I personally had a very difficult time sitting through the vigil to support our Jewish neighbors as I listened to town leaders claim that we have no tolerance for hate when we clearly have shown lots of tolerance for hate within our police force. The words rang false to me and I wondered if I felt that way, how many marginalized people in Arlington felt the same. I know we can do better.

Respectfully,

Lynette Martyn

Good Afternoon,

Thank you for taking the time to contact me regarding this matter. The Arlington Police Department indeed takes this report, and all reports of this nature, seriously. In this instance, we immediately began looking into the message, as well as the reported circumstances which preceded it.

While the message was concerning, it was determined in consultation with the Middlesex District Attorney's Office that it did not reach the threshold of Threats to Commit Crimes per MGL c.275 §2; however, I have personally been in touch with Laura regarding the available courses of action.

Please rest assured the APPD takes the safety of all our residents seriously, and we stand ready to assist and intervene as necessary without prejudice.

Hello.

I am writing everyone at the Town of Arlington that I can think of to make you aware of an unexpected and unsettling email I received last night. I have included the full email below. My understanding is that others in our community have also received this email. Back in the old “normal” days, I would have blown something like this off. However, in light of our current political and social climate, I don’t want to leave you unaware of what’s going on.

I do not know Stephen Harrington. I gather he is upset with my public statements on the community email list, the Arlington List, concerning the Arlington Police Department’s Lt. Pedrini, his hateful public statements, and the Town’s continuing his employment. It seems to me that Mr. Harrington has been emboldened by Lt. Pedrini’s writings and the Town’s poor management of events.

I expect you and the Town of Arlington to take Mr. Harrington’s threatening email and all that it implies very seriously. In light of the recent suspicious fires at a rabbi’s home in Arlington and the on-going racist and hateful speech by others in our community, I presume that you and the Town of Arlington will take a very public and active stand against such abhorrence.

Sincerely,

Forrest Snyder
